

A Resolution to Abolish the Electoral College

- WHEREAS, In the last US Presidential Election of 2016, the voter turnout was around 60%
- WHEREAS, A low voter turnout is a threat to the democracy of the United States and the foundations laid by our founding fathers
- WHEREAS, The Electoral College was won by the Presidential candidate that lost the popular vote by approximately three million votes
- WHEREAS, Citizens of the United States will find it unnecessary to vote when their voices aren't being heard
- RESOLVED, That the Congress here assembled shall make the following recommendation to abolish the Electoral College and have the victor of the popular vote become the President of the United States in future U.S. Presidential elections from the year of 2024.
